

PhD studentships in the field of Kurdish Studies

Centre for Kurdish Studies.

Applications are invited for PhD studentships in the field of Kurdish Studies commencing in October 2009. The awards have been made available through a grant awarded to the Centre for Kurdish Studies by the Kurdistan Regional Government of Iraq. It is anticipated that a minimum of three PhD studentships will be available for the 2009/10 academic year.

Your research project may be in any discipline of the humanities and social sciences as applied to the study of the Kurds and Kurdistan, including (but not limited to) political science, history, geography, sociology, language and literature, religious studies, anthropology, and gender studies.

Applications are invited from suitably qualified graduates - you should have or expect to have at least a 2.1 degree, and preferably have a Masters degree or equivalent.

Closing date for completed applications is 12 June 2009.

Studentship details

The studentships cover the cost of tuition fees (at both home and international levels) and provide a maintenance grant of up to £12,600 a year.

How to apply

Applicants should submit a formal application to the University of Exeter for the PhD in Kurdish Studies. In addition, they should send a CV, two academic references and a research proposal to: Laura Scrivens; Tel +44 (0) 1392 269250.